Cycle Routes

National Cycle Route 45 follows the A419 east to provide a traffic free walking and cycling route to Stonehouse or west towards Whitminster and Saul on a quiet road section. You can also cycle slowly along the canal. Cycle parking is available at multiple locations in the area including Stonehouse High Street outside Co-op and adjacent to Regent Street.

Walking Routes

New and upgraded pathways link into neighbouring Oldends Industrial Estate and connections to Stonehouse High Street. Just south of the A419 is the Stroudwater Navigation towpath that runs all the way to Stroud, linking to the Thames & Severn Canal Towpath.

Getting about:

Bus Services and Links

Great Oldbury is connected with Gloucester, Stonehouse, Stroud and Dursley by bus.

For more information, check out: <https://www.stagecoachbus.com/promos-and-offers/west/stroud-service-changes>

Service 64 offers a half hour service from Great Oldbury (service starting through the link road in Autumn 2021) to Gloucester, Stroud and Stonehouse. Running on weekdays from as early as 0600 through to return buses late into the evening, there is also a good Saturday and Sunday service. Buses stop a short walk from nearby railway stations.

Service 65 will link you to Cam and Dursley railway station for early morning trains to Bristol and pick up in the evening. This hourly service also connects you to Dursley and Stonehouse during the day, with a short walk to the main road to meet the bus.

Stagecoach have Stonehouse and Stroud Day and MegaRider tickets available which residents of Great Oldbury can purchase.

There are also some daily schools buses serving the development (Service X3 to Dursley)

Connections to Rail Stations

There are some amazing local walking and cycling routes right on the doorstep of Great Oldbury. Spot wildlife and the areas rich industrial heritage along the Stroudwater Navigation and find out more about preserving its history, or take up the challenge of walking the Cotswold Way; a long distance walking route that runs the length of the Cotswolds AONB and passes to the east of Stonehouse.

Rodborough and Minchinhampton Commons provide popular open spaces for recreation whilst the likes of picturesque Saul Junction and Frampton hug the Gloucester & Sharpness Canal in the Severnside area.

Further afield, WWT Slimbridge, Woodchester Mansion and Painswick Rococo Garden are just some of the local attractions nearby.
